HUNDREDS OF VOLUNTEERS

Parade Moves at 3 O'clock; Includes Three Sections; Rev. E. M. Stevens
and F. J. Scott and Captains G. W.
Martin and T. W. Scott Are Speakers

Thus far the day has been in every way propitious for the observance of National Defense Day. The weather is more favorable than the forecast indicated which, if it continues throughout the day, will contribute much to the success of the event.

The mobilization of the National Guard unit took place this forenoon and each will be on duty until 9:30 tonight. When the Howitzer Company assembled at 8 o'clock only two men out of an enlisted strength of 61 were reported not present. At the time of assembly the number of one-day enlistments was reported to have reached 300. Additional enlistments have been received during the day.

The Medical Detachment mobilized at 11 o'clock with 87 enlisted men and 11 officers enroute, including the 33
regular enlisted men and six officers making the one-day enlistments 74
men and five officers.

The 94th Engineer Battalion, recruited by Captain G. W. Martin, superintendent of the Connellsville division of the Baltimore & O. Co. railroad, expects to have between 300 and 400 men in line when reporting for the parade formation this afternoon.

The one-day volunteers will be formed into a reserve company and given a place in the parade in the rear of the medical detachment. Ex-service men, including members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, come next in line.

The order of march, which begins
at 3 o'clock is as follows:

Police section—Chief of Police P. M.
Agar.

First Section—The "B" Band, Citizens
Mobilized Committee, including mayor, city officials, boards of education and fraternal societies. 2nd and 3rd

teams, Nurses and Red Cross section,
G. A. R. in automobiles, Firemen's Band, New Haven Hose Company,

and Fraternal societies. Troops of Boy Scouts, Italian Band, Italian patriotic societies.

Military Training Camps, Troops of Reserve Company, Colored ex-servicemen and volunteers.

tached to patriotic societies or fraternal organizations, representatives of industry, and individual workers.

Automobiles.
Upon arrival at Fayette Field the bands will assume mass formation and the sections of the parade will be grouped in front of the grand stand.
The program of exercises appears elsewhere on this page.

At the conclusion of the program all volunteers will be mobilized from further duty. The Howitzer Company and the Medical Detachment will return to the armory and hold drills and in the evening will partake of a corn roast in the basement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The Nation today is testing the speed with which its man power can be assembled for war. In every city and hamlet throughout the land citizens are responding to a stimulated call for volunteers.

Behind closed doors at the War Department Army generals sit around a table scanning reports coming from corps area commanders, feeling the military pulse of the country. Defense Day for which the Army has been planning for months both as a test of mobilization and as tribute to its fighting hold, General Pershing is on.

By tonight the War Department expects to have a satisfactory answer to two questions.

First—Can the man power of the Nation be mobilized fully and quickly under the machinery perfected by the Army since the World War?

Second—Can a volunteer call produce the requisite number of soldiers for a first levy?

The defense test is primarily an attack on the problem of personnel increase.

Some later test may be devised to test the matter of equipment and transportation.

Ashe Becomes Warden Western Penitentiary

The board of trustees of the Western Penitentiary on Thursday elected Stanley P. Ashe of Connellsville as warden of the institution to succeed
John M. Egan, resigned. The trustees issued a statement without specific comment, on complaints of guards of lack of discipline of prisoners but expressing confidence the new warden
and the guards would get along harmoniously.

David I. M. McCall of Pittsburg was elected chairman of the board of trustees. Warden Egan's resignation is effective October 1 at which time Mr.
Ashe's tenure of office begins, but the board yesterday granted Mr. Egan leave of absence from September 15 to October 1 and Mr. Ashe will assume direction of the prison Monday.
He will act as warden until the end of the month.

The appointment of Mr. Ashe was forecast following news of Warden Egan's resignation a month ago. He is known to be in sympathy with the policies of the new trustees in treatment of prisoners. Mr. Ashe was attached to the prison management last January when grade school and vocational training classes were inaugurated in the institution. He is a native of Connellsville and a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. Ashe was for several years superintendent of the schools of Connellsville. He has maintained a warfare here since taking up warfare work at the penitentiary, but will now move to the warden's quarters at the prison.

great deal.

Worst Roads in Missouri, "Pete" Mikalaris Says

Steer clear of Missouri—if you are a motorist—is the advice of P. Mikalaris, manager of the Ophidion Pleas-ture, who returned Wednesday night from a tour of five weeks over the Middle West. The reason he assigned is that the roads are the worst in several states in that section. Often his car was hub deep, Mr. Mikalaris said.

Accompanying the motor manager
were his brother, John, and C. M.
Chorpenning. Their trip covered 4,000 miles.

Present Not Opportune Time to Convoke Second Disarmament Conference

Dawes Styles Sen. La Follette the Master Demagogue

MEY WAUKIE, Wis., Sept. 12.—The LaFollette Independent candidacy was attacked here in its recognized stronghold last night by Charles G.
Dawes, Republican vice-president nominee, as "the quixotism of de-magogism, animated by the vicious purpose of undermining the constitutional foundation of this Republic."

Speaking in the Milwaukee Auditorium, Mr. Dawes declared that "in the mass of clap-trap accompanying the LaFollette effort we can see one steady purpose always in mind—the attack on the Constitution of the United States." and it was to this "attack" that Mr. Dawes devoted most of his attention.

The Republican nominee described Senator LaFollette as "the master demagogue," warning against any party attempting to take a position in the half-way ground between "those who favor the Constitution of the United States and those who would destroy its essential parts."

Declaring this division to be the greatest issue of the campaign, and appealed to the voters of Wisconsin to decide the issue "by a full vote of the registered voters, not by the fractional vote which, for the last four years, has been cast in Wisconsin."

Mr. Dawes said he recognized that there were in the country "many men who are justly discontented but who are patriotic at heart."

"They may be opposed to certain things in the existing order, but they are not opposed to the existing order of things," he added. "I warn them that they should not be deceived by the catch-all phrases of this master demagogue, endeavoring to amal-gamate them with the scientific, saving the red flag, in an attack on the Constitution of their country."

The Republican candidate continued with his attack on the attitude of the LaFollette movement toward the Constitution as an assault on the statements made by Senator LaFollette in his Labor Day address.

"In its strong appeal to the prejudices and passions of the people, the speech was unusual, but in no other way," he asserted. "Never in the history of the United States has the common sense of the average individual received a greater affront."

LaFollette's speech should raise the question in the minds of the American people—"Does he consider us a race of fools?"

Mr. Dawes in beginning his discussion of the LaFollette movement which he characterized as "the culmination of the most dangerous era of demagogism through which this country has ever passed," quoted the declaration in the LaFollette platform for a constitutional amendment providing that Congress might be convened by a statute made it effective over a judicial veto.

This proposition," he asserted, "is to abrogate the principle of threefold division of power—executive, legislative and judicial—which is the basis of our Constitution, and make the executive and judicial power subordinate to the legislative power.
It means that for our present form of government, we are to adopt dominance of the legislative power."

"The success of such a doctrine, which would mean that the Constitution would be stripped of the authority which would be disastrous, and government would become the plaything of changing political parties,
with demagogues in the saddle."

HEAVY DAMAGE TO CORN IN LOWLANDS BY THURSDAY'S FROST

The corn crop in some low-lying sections of Fayette county was ruined by Thursday morning's frost. With the early frost, the foliage was shriveled and in October by what in many places
was a freeze.

Next to corn, lima beans and the bush variety of other beans and pumpkins and cucumbers suffered most.
Cucumbers and pumpkins vines which were exposed were killed.

Other vegetation did not seem to fare so badly. In places grape leaves were curled but the fruit was not damaged. Apples and peaches were unhurt.

To Enter College.
Miss Virginia Woods, clerk at the Wright-Metzer Store for some time, has resigned and on Monday will leave for Alliance, Ohio, where she will enter Mount Union College. Miss Woods is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Alfred H. Woods of East Fairview avenue.

Europe Must First Test Operation of the Dawes Plan, Says Coolidge.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—President
Coolidge is anxious that something practical be done to limit further the armaments of the principal powers of the world as are the spokesmen of governments who recently met in the Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva.

Mr. Coolidge has no idea that the suggestion he made in his recent speech, namely, that he would convoke
a conference on armaments, will imply any conflict with the plan made at Geneva for a conference of powers.

The Geneva institution is to appoint a commission to study the armament question and feel out the viewpoint of the powers with respect to a plan to be presented to them in an international conference. America is deeply interested in all plans which will reduce the cost of armaments.

The policy of the United States government, however, is based upon a belief that a move in the direction of international disarmament will come with better chance of success when Europe had had an opportunity to discuss the Dawes report, and to put it into actual operation.

Mr. Coolidge has not forgotten that in the Washington Conference for the Limitation of Armaments an effort was made to bring up the subject of the arms of armies and land military establishments. The speech of President Briand in which he pointed out that France felt herself in constant jeopardy and could not at that time discuss land armaments still has its impression indelibly written in the minds of officials here. In other words, it was useless then to ask France to reduce her armaments because the latter was constantly thinking of the situation in connection with reparations and of course, her own national security as affected by the controversial growing out of the Treaty of Versailles. In such a mood, even a temper, efforts to convoke an international conference were not regarded as likely to succeed.

But when the United States government will assume the initiative in convening an international conference
now for the moment is open.
Certainly nothing will be done during the present political campaign as such a move might be misconstrued both abroad and in this country. When the smoke of the campaign has cleared away, the President feels, it will be time enough to convene such an operation of the Dawes report has brought about a different state of mind in Europe with respect to armament conferences. Meanwhile, the League of Nations with its Commission of Inquiry will be studying the subject and much more will be known about the attitude of other countries than is known today. Thus far, the only commitment made from Geneva has been for the principle of further reduction of armaments and a method of arbitration but there is always a practical difficulty when it comes to applying the principle in a definite treaty form.

It would not be surprising if, after all, the attitude of the foreign governments would develop a merely what could be accomplished in an international conference if it were held, so that the chance of succeeding would be known far in advance. While much was accomplished at the Washington conference that was a surprise to the general public, there is no doubt that the main idea back of the Washington conference was fully discussed by the powers before they sent their plenipotentiaries to Washington, and that there was substantial agreement before the conference actually met.

In other words, diplomacy is constantly trying to discover a common ground on all moot questions and there is no doubt that the subject of military armaments and a conference to codify international law will be given attention as the Coolidge Administration proceeds with its foreign policy.

Just now, the Administration feels quite confident that the Dawes plan will take a good deal of time and considered thought to operate successfully.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kellogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lansing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing else has ever done him 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir: I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and suffered a great deal of pain. It was the result of constipation, which was caused by a bad diet. I tried many different remedies, but none of them did me any good. Two months ago I decided to try Kellogg's Bran. I tried it, and I was surprised to find that it did me so much good. I have never taken a single pill since, and my bowels are now regular. I feel like a new man.

The bride wore a gown of midnight blue crepe and a hat to correspond. White roses and valley lilies formed her nosegay. Mrs. Casper P. Serrotin of Leaning No. 1, as matron of honor, appeared in tan crepe and hat. Joseph E. Nolan of Dunbar, served as his cousin's best man. Miss Jennie Cusack played the bridal chords from Lohengrin and at the offertory she sang "Ave Maria." Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast of delicious refreshments was served for members of the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. McGarrity left for a short wedding trip and upon their return will be at home in Connelville.

Everything Ready For Observance Of Defense Day
Industrial preparedness. The immediate sequel of today's test will be the revamping of a reserve army organization in those localities which fall today to recruit their units to full strength. The entire War Department organization in Washington has been enlarged for the day and is functioning at higher speed than at any time since the war. The general staff, with Pershing at the head for the first time, is watching the machinery move with as much anxiety as if would if an enemy were off our coast, for it is an acid test of its past five years' work. Each city and town is having its exercises, but the National Capital is leading the Nation with imposing ceremonies of its own. President Coolidge, Secretary of War Weeks and General Pershing will review a parade of 30,000 Regular Army troops and Defense Day volunteers from a stand south of the White House. Weeks and Pershing will make short addresses.

The round the world fliers will soar over the city, dropping flowers on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington.

Tonight Pershing and Weeks will speak over the radio. For Pershing it will be his last official word to the American people.

"Jim" Wigginton Again Turns Steps Westward
In a note to a member of The Courier staff "Jim" Wigginton, who recently visited the scenes of his youth in Connelville after an absence of 30 years, states that he is leaving Pittsburgh today. With his wife he will visit his son in Cleveland for a short time before pointing his "pale nose westward again."

Accompanying the note was a snap photo bearing the legend: "This is the present queen of the Wigginton house." He neglected, however, to indicate whether it was No. 4 or No. 6 in the series.

POLICE SEARCH FOR GEORGE D'AGOSTINO; TRIES TO KILL KINSMAN

Police are hunting for George D'Agostino, charged with having attempted to kill his brother-in-law, "Jule" Girard, Tuesday, as the outgrowth of a family quarrel which has been crowding police attention with more or less frequency recently. The missing man fired a shotgun at Girard in Water street yesterday afternoon but did not injure the man, though only tearing through his clothes.

In December, 1922, D'Agostino was shot by his wife but recovered after spending some weeks at the Connelville State Hospital. Their troubles, he said, lived with his wife since then, when disagreements once more came up she left his home. Since then, according to police, with whom complaints have been lodged, D'Agostino is alleged to have annoyed his wife. There have been threats of shootings. According to report of the case to the authorities, George drew up to the curb in his automobile yesterday as Girard and his sister, Mrs. Mary D'Agostino, were passing. Neighbors say he had the shotgun with him and attempted to shoot his wife with the butt. When Girard intervened, the husband is alleged to have fired point blank at him.

What Does Ice Mean to You?

Did you ever stop to consider what an important part ice plays in modern life? Without ice the summer heat would be almost unbearable. It keeps Baby's milk fresh and sweet; it preserves food; it's necessary in the sick room; it makes drinks cool and refreshing. These are some of the things that ice does.

When buying ice be sure to demand the best. Three points in our favor are—(1) it is pure and clean; (2) it is lower priced; (3) it lasts longer. Stop the driver or call the office for the best ice in town.

NEW LOW RECORD IN FUEL CONSUMPTION IN TRAIN MOVEMENT

Was 11 Pounds per 1,000 Gross Ton Miles Less in June Than Year Ago.

A BIG SAVING AFFECTED

"The number of pounds of coal consumed by road locomotives in June, 1924," says the Railway Age, "was 136 pounds per 1,000 gross ton miles of freight service rendered. The gross tonnage upon which this figure is based is the total weight of the trains moved, including not only cars and their loads but also locomotives and tenders. The nearest approach ever made to this figure was in June, 1923, for which month the figure was 141 pounds. The number of pounds of fuel consumed in June, 1924, for each passenger car moved one mile was 16.3. The nearest approach ever made to this record was in June, 1923, for which the figure was 16.4.

"In order to get the true significance of the new low record made by the railways in the consumption of coal it is necessary to indicate the magnitude of the saving effected by it. Marked progress was being made in reducing fuel consumption when the shop employees' strike came on July 1, 1923, causing general demoralization and undoing a large part of what previously had been achieved. In the middle of the year 1923 conditions with respect to fuel consumption had become normal, and in every month since then the railways have been improving the record.

"The amount of fuel consumed in road freight service per 1,000 gross ton miles last June was 11 pounds less than in June, 1923, being 146 pounds in June, 1923, and 135 in June, 1924. The number of tons of coal saved in June in consequence was about 451,000, and the average cost being about $2.00 per ton, the savings in money was over $900,000. Computed in a similar way it is found that the increased economy in fuel consumption in passenger service in June, 1924, as compared with June, 1923, saved about $501,000. These statistics show a total saving in June of about $1,400,000.

"In the first six months of 1923 the consumption in freight service was 170 pounds per 1,000 gross ton miles and in the first six months of 1924 only 157 pounds. This reduction saved approximately 3,371,500 tons of fuel, and at the average price was $3.17 the saving in money in the first half of the year was about $10,588,000. Likewise, in the first six months of the year the consumption per passenger car mile was reduced from 19.3 pounds to 17.7 pounds. This resulted in a total saving of about 1,356,000 tons of fuel, or about $1,235,500 in expenses. Therefore, in the first six months of the year the saving resulting directly from fuel economy in freight and passenger service amounted to almost $15,000,000.

"The average cost of railway fuel in 1920 was $1.20 per ton and in 1921 $1.10. It was down to $1.46 when the great coal strike began in 1922. It then began advancing and got up to $1.87 in August, 1923. Immediately after the normal production of coal was resumed the average price began to decline, and it has gone down continuously ever since until last June. It was only about $2.00. The average price in the first six months of 1923 was $3.01 and in the first six months of 1924 $3.17. On the basis of the decline in price and the saving in fuel consumed in road service this decline in price saved the railways almost $25,000,000; and this added to the saving due to the increase of efficiency in the use of fuel saved makes a total saving in six months of almost $40,000,000.

"At the rate they are now going the railways' fuel bill will be reduced in 1924 by around $20,000,000; and of this reduction some $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 will be due to increased efficiency in operation."

CONSUMPTION OF GASOLINE SET NEW HIGH RECORD IN JULY

Average Daily Demand was 25,619,908 Gallons, an Increase of 11.9 Per Cent Over June

The millions of automobiles, tractors, motor boats, motorcycles, aeroplanes, and other gasoline-driven vehicles in the United States consumed more of this liquid fuel in July than in any previous month in the Nation's industrial history, states the Department of the Interior in a review of statistics compiled by the Bureau of Mines. The domestic demand for gasoline in July amounted to 794,030,853 gallons, representing an increase of 107,000,000 gallons over the consumption figures for June in which month a new high-record mark had been set. The daily average demand for gasoline in July was 25,619,908 gallons, an increase over the June daily demand of 11.9 per cent.

The production of gasoline during July amounted to 741,074,812 gallons, almost 5,000,000 gallons more than in June, and 105,000,000 gallons more than the output for July a year ago. The daily average production of gasoline in July, 1924, amounted to 23,844,671 gallons, representing a decrease in daily average production from June of 2.6 per cent, but an increase of 16.5 per cent over the daily average production in July, 1923.

Stocks of gasoline on hand at the refineries on August 1 are reported by the Bureau of Mines as 1,468,558,839 gallons, a decrease from the July 1 figures of 1,522,259,280 gallons, but an increase of 301,000,000 gallons over the supply on hand August 1, 1923. Imports of gasoline both fell off during the month.

At the July rate of consumption the nation's gasoline stocks as of August 1, 1924, represented 57 days supply, compared with 51 days supply available on August 1, 1923. The decrease in gasoline stocks during July reflected the greatly increased consumption by motor vehicles in the face of but little increased production.

LEOPOLD AND LOEB TAKE PLACES AMONG THE "LIVING DEAD"

STATE PENITENTIARY, Joliet, Ill., Sept. 11.—Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, friends of the famous and notorious graduates, today joined the "living dead" ranks of the "living dead."

The boys who murdered Bobby Franks for a thrill were lined up with murderers, with robbers and with lunatics and marched to the prison chapel to attend the DePue Day exercises. Their sleek black hair, clipped down to prison style, and wearing the conventional prison garb, Leopold and Loeb were the first of the "living dead" to appear in the middle of the room with 1,100 other prisoners.

It took time for the youthful slayers to address themselves to their surroundings. For a while they sat close together, casting wary glances at their comrades. Their faces were pale and they trembled and shivered uneasily as other prisoners gave them the "once over."

Just before the exercises were over the nonchalant of the boys had returned. They whispered to each other as they sat in the courtroom when their hearing was held before Justice Caverly. They took their seats from their comrades and laughed and clapped their hands at appropriate times.

Turns came to the eyes of Leopold and Loeb when the prison choir arose and sang "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching."

Will Attend Funeral.

Members of the Jennie Layton, Auxiliary to the Baltimore & Ohio Veterans Association, will attend the funeral of Thomas E. Wood to be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in St. John's Catholic Church of Uniontown.

Coolidge the Man For Presidency, Women Are Told

women had been outfranchised they had not accomplished the results that had been expected. This is due, she said, to several obstacles, two of them being paying of poll taxes and the woman voter being compelled to give her age.

In reviewing the work of the Administration, Mrs. Verner told of the good results that had been accomplished, calling particular attention to the success of the national debt, saying that much of the credit was due to Treasurer Andrew W. Mellon, who she claimed knew how to handle finances and had done more for the United States during his term as treasurer than any other man holding that office since the beginning of the government.

Charles G. Dawes deserves to be vice-president of the United States, she said, having shown this by his wonderful work in solving the reparations problem. The speaker urged the women voters to be careful in voting for the candidates for congressmen.

Mrs. Verner is a woman of a very charming personality and her talk was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Francis, chairman, presided. Previous to the address of Mrs. Verner she introduced Mrs. J. B. Adams of Uniontown, vice-chairman of the Republican County Committee. During her short talk Mrs. Adams urged all Republican women of the county to get out and register, get into the work and help to elect one or two persons to do it all.

Miss Lenora B. Craft, president of the Uniontown Organization of Republican Women, gave a short but interesting talk. Stirling G. O. P. songs to the tune of popular selections were rendered before and after the address by the Republican Ukulele Club composed of 14 girls under the direction of Prof. C. H. Wirsing. The music injected enthusiasm into the meeting and the musicians were highly complimented by all the speakers.

The demonstration was the first open one of the Republican Women's Organization since the election of the new officers and Mrs. Francis and other officers were delighted with the large turnout.

Business Increases On Baltimore & Ohio

Business is picking up steadily on the Baltimore & Ohio lines, Division Superintendent G. W. Martin said today. One of the first results of increased traffic is an order placing the sleepers on full time.

This order became effective Wednesday. Previous to that time, instead of 48 hours a week, the force was working 40 hours.

To a Lady

Who Refuses to Use Clay Edna Wallace Hopper.

A lady who has used my beauty helps have brought her wonderful results, but she adds, "It is too much trouble to use clay."

"Too much trouble in my stage work and in study of my beautiful complexion. I have placed it with all my friends and they all say it is a beauty. I would rather miss a dress than miss my clay."

"You may be able to see what clay has done for me. Mine is a beautiful complexion. My Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs and muddies it. It removes the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revitalize it. The result is a soft, clear glow which cannot be duplicated by any other skin cream or cosmetic. It firms the skin, combats lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores, eliminates surplus oil."

Many women seem to drop ten years with one application of this clay. The countless women it is bringing new beauty and new youth. Are such results not worth to you a few minutes' time a week?

Clay is a beauty essential. Famous beauties have for ages used it. No woman can hope to look her best without it, or to keep her youth as I have. You can recognize clay users in every circle by their beautiful complexion. Mine are a super-clay—a new type clay—based on 25 years of scientific study. I have placed it with all my friends and they all say it is a beauty. I would rather miss a dress than miss my clay."

INTERNAL HEAT OF EARTHUSABLE

Scientist Approves Suggestion of Boring a Hole Ten Miles Deep.

London.—The suggestion of the internal heat of the earth as a source of power is now being seriously considered by the world's scientific community, said H. V. Rice, Jr., honorary chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric company, at the recent meeting of the World Power conference in London.

"The source of power which we must expect from solar radiation is the power obtained from volcanic regions through holes bored into the earth, as has already been successfully demonstrated in Italy," Mr. Rice said. "Another possibility exists in the interesting and important suggestion made by Sir Charles Parsons in 1904, and again in 1919, of boring a great hole ten or twelve miles deep in some convenient and suitable place, to utilize the internal heat of the earth. This suggestion should not be allowed to lie fallow."

Geet Lim Than Battisship. "I heartily agree with Sir Charles in his statement that the cost of such an experiment is trivial compared with the value of the possible information which might be gained by the investigation into this unexplored region of the earth. The cost would be much less than that of a single battleship. "If only the people and their representatives had the faith and vision of science the value of such an idea would have been put to practical use long ago. It is a big idea, worthy of a nation's enthusiastic support. In fact, it is worth undertaking as an international scientific enterprise—a suitable subject for co-operative work between friendly nations."

To use the internal heat of the earth for the production of power was only one of the suggestions offered by Mr. Rice in his talk on "New Fields of Research for Power Development." Mentioning the possibility of direct conversion of solar energy, the speaker suggested that the photovoltaic process may contain the germ. The most promising solution, he considered, seems to be through storage in growing vegetation.

Storage Battery Advances Little. Direct use of solar energy requires storage of the converted power. This emphasizes the fact that the storage battery, the only means for this, has advanced but little with the passing years. This is a problem for the chemist.

Despite the remarkable efficiency of the modern dynamo, and the great advances which have been accomplished with the turbine, there are still many ways in which they can be further improved. Better use of materials or the discovery of better materials to reduce weight and cost are possibilities in the case of the dynamo. The use of mercury vapor, as carried on in the mercury process, has greatly increased turbine efficiency, but mercury has its limitations and research should be continued for the discovery of another fluid which can be used similarly.

Study of overhead transmission should be continued along the lines which have yielded such a harvest—study of the limits of electric pressure, of corona losses, insulators, size and type of conductors, etc. Mr. Rice continued. High voltage transmission should also be investigated thoroughly, since at no distant time remotely situated water power must be utilized—the use of direct current, and the vacuum tube, command attention in this field.

More research and experimental work in connection with transmission of high voltages in underground cables is also imperative, since it is apparent that present design and manufacturing methods are not sufficiently advanced to produce 100,000-volt cable in commercial quantities at practical prices.

Croatian Peasant Girls Wear Dowries on Clothes

Zagreb, Croatia.—Village maidens in Croatia now carry their dowries in the shape of trimming sewn on the bodices instead of girdling necklaces and buttons of gold coin, as of old. The new fashion results from the governmental ban on the possession of gold coins, which are no longer legal even as a medium of exchange.

Adapting themselves to the new order, the girls now sew bank notes of no large denominations as they can afford to decorate lines on either side of the bodices as a token of their rating in the matrimonial market. The new wife carries a girl displaying half a million dinars, for instance, knows that she brings him a dowry of about $10,000, and not a few young women display that much on feast days.

Bullet-Proof Heads

Ola, Ark.—Heads of negroes in this section of Arkansas are bullet proof, according to persons who have heard of "mufrys" at crop games here recently. In one of them one negro shot another in the head with a small caliber revolver, but it merely bounced off the same as if it had hit a rock. Later in another game a revolver dinged a negro's head and another colored "gamester" was nicked in the head. The bullet ran a furrow along his scalp, but did not pierce the skull, and the negro is ready for another game.

Baby Tested Day and Night by Eczema

Resisted Stopped Itching and Rashed Skin State

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 10.—"I thought I was interested in the fact that my baby, Rosalind, was covered with eczema and the itching was so severe I had to keep stockings on her hands to keep her from scratching. I had to be up at night as it bothered her so she could not sleep. Two doctors, one of them a skin specialist, told me she had eczema. I tried several remedies, but nothing helped, so when I read in the paper about Rosinol, I thought I would give it a trial. I can't praise it enough, for it has done wonders for the baby's skin and she sleeps all through the night now. I would advise anyone with a similar case to try Rosinol Ointment." Young Stinnes Was Trained to Succeed His Shrewd Father

While but 27 years old, young Hugo Stinnes is now managing the estate of hundreds of millions that belonged to the great German industrialist. He is thus described by Dr. Ludwig Stein, German publicist, discussing European politics in Heure's International Magazine.

"I first met young Stinnes in 1915. He was 18, shy, reticent and reserved, but extraordinarily mature and intelligent. I talked with him a long time and enjoyed the conversation at least as much as he did."

"The next day I saw his father and he said, 'Junior is much brighter and abler than I am,' adding that some day the young man would succeed to the control of the Stinnes interests."

"If young Stinnes knows much about business it is because he was always in such close touch with his father. It was the custom of the elder Stinnes to hold nightly conferences with his wife, son and daughters during which he would speak with the utmost freedom of his business plans and prospects. These conferences perhaps did not mean much to the ladies, but they enabled young Hugo to see exactly how his father went about it to carry on his great enterprises."

"During the war, young Stinnes was sent by his father to Scandinavia on innumerable secret errands of business and politics. For months in succession he was on trains, between Berlin and Stockholm, most of the time on those errands he conferred with bankers, statesmen and diplomats. To them he must have appeared like a youth. But it is in the course of his temperance and his ability that he gained both the respect of those with whom he conferred and the undisguised appreciation of his father. On these errands, Junior always made good. He accomplished what his father wished him to do."

Although No Progress Has Been Made, Coke Market Has Not Lost Any Ground

Furnaces Delay Taking Up
Negotiations for Fourth Quarter Supplies.

NO CHANGE IN PRICES

Spot Furnace Rather Dull; Offerings
Not Very Easily Absorbed. Light
Transactions in Foundry; Steel
Movement Does Not Extend to Coke

Special to The Weekly Courier.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 10.—While the coke market has not lost any ground in the past week it has not made expected progress and thus presents a somewhat dull if not disappointing appearance. Market prices are quotable precisely the same as a week ago.

The main point about the market is that furnaces are not lining themselves up as rapidly as expected to close contracts for fourth quarter coke, when $3.25 was recently established as the going price by the closing of several contracts. The operators feel that they have attained their objective, and point out that even with a 25-cent advance over prices paid on July and third quarter coke there is a substantial loss represented. The exact amount of the loss cannot be stated precisely as it depends on the rate of operation. The typical operator feels that the price should be $3.35 or $3.75 in present circumstances.

The attitude of the furnaces that have been holding off from buying fourth quarter coke seems to be that while $3.25 may prove to be the price right along, if there are any chances of a departure from this figure there are more chances of a departure downward than of a departure upward. Several operators have refused to quote as low as $3.25 on fourth quarter business, but they do not feel certain that they will be able to obtain more.

The spot furnace coke market has been rather dull, and there are offerings right along which are absorbed, but not very easily. There is coke to be had at $3.00 both for spot and for nearby shipment, while there have been sales at up to $3.10. A few stray carloads, not going to blast furnaces, have brought $3.15, but such cases are exceptional and are not part of the regular furnace coke market.

The extra dullness that recently spread over the foundry coke market, one continued, transactions in spot coke being lighter than a month ago. Prices on standard grades are well maintained at former quotations. Occasionally there are rumors of lower prices, but all such cases probably involve coke below standard. The market as a whole is quotable the same as a week ago, as follows:

Spot furnace $3.25 @ $3.10

Contract furnace $3.25 @ $3.10

Spot foundry $4.00 @ $4.50

While the steel situation has been improving right along for about 60 days past, the actual improvement in pricing, less comfort to the coke trade than did the prospect, for it does not seem to be accompanied by a corresponding degree of improvement in the coke situation itself. Steel production took such a sharp dip up to and including July that it seems to be a sort of statistical twist that production of steel ingots was more than one-third greater in August than in July, the rate now being even above the August rate. No change of anything like equal moment has been felt in coke production. As to merchant coke, it depends more upon operations of the merchant blast furnaces, and the merchant furnace position has improved only slightly. Production of merchant pig iron having done little more this far than cease to decline.

The pig iron market has been distinctly dull in the past week, but it has lost none of its recently acquired lona, prices being regarded as very firm, with an advancing tendency. Many producers insist that their asking prices are up, but thus far actual sales have not been made at advances, except for the advance of a dollar a ton in foundry iron in this territory nearly three weeks ago. This is maintained in current sales, which are not large but are amply sufficient to show where the market stands. On the basis of last sales prices are as follows, unchanged from a week ago:

Base $20.00

Foundry $20.00

These prices are for a. b. Valley furnaces, freight to Pittsburgh being $1.75.

The Pittsburgh district coal market has undergone a slight further improvement. There are heavier shipments than a month ago, and much heavier shipments than in June, to regular customers of various operations, while there is a little more activity in the spot market. The operators part of the Brainerd district had a substantial improvement and reports prices about five cents a ton higher than a fortnight ago on lump, adobe-run and slack. Some improvement is also reported from central Pennsylvania. In that district there is a move now on foot to reduce Chilean President Quits; Army Wins.

A group of young army officers at Santiago forced Arturo Alessandri, President of Chile, to resign, but declined to accept when he also tendered his resignation. It was announced, however, he will not be permitted to attend official functions generally demanded by the President's presence.

Better Organization Is Needed in Mining, Says A. F. of L. Organ

The mining industry is not yet organized on a basis which promotes public service, the establishment of business ethics or the elimination of bad practices, says the American Federation of Labor. There is in the mining industry, so far as the owners and employers are concerned, a certain degree of organization, but the bond which holds that organization together has not yet sufficiently emerged from the greed stage to make advisable any great immediate hope for measures calculated to improve the conduct of the industry.

The coal industry is still organized, in so far as it is organized at all, around the concepts of the long ago. Mine owners can unite with fair success in a contest with the miners' union. They can unite with much success in keeping up the price of coal. They have not yet developed that enlightened selfishness which makes it possible for them to unite in the removal of abuses or in measures to stabilize either production or prices or to get together in any formidable program of that public service which must some day characterize the coal industry.

Came Home to Die

"Three years ago I came home thinking 2 or 3 weeks would be my limit to live. I had suffered for 15 years from colic attacks and severe liver and stomach trouble. I happened to see an advertisement of May's Wonderful Remedy and purchased a bottle at the drug store and after taking the first dose I felt better than I had for 15 years. I am now in the best of health—thanks to May's 'Wonderful Remedy.' It removes the entrained mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One does not convince or money refunded at A. A. Clarke and druggists everywhere. Advertisement.

Novelties Are in Fashion Picture

Combs Promise to Be Much in Favor—Spanish Shawl Popular Mode.

In this intermediate season some similar and interesting things are disclosed in the shops, the small, intimate places where exclusive novelties are shown and where odds and ends are to be found, says a fashion authority in the New York Times.

Combs are to be all the rage next season. Judging from the attractive novelties that are offered in the shops and department stores patronized by the elite. The most diverting styles are shown: large ornate affairs of various kinds, in ivory, shell or filigree work in metal cord of the most delicate materials. There are combs overlaid with a floral pattern, in gilt ribbon; combs studded with semi-precious stones and combs covered with "straw" just as they are in many colors.

Just how these large hair ornaments will be adjusted to bobbed coiffures is not apparent, but that there is a demand worthy of attention is obvious. Earrings are shown to engage the fancy of the lady who adorns locks; there are beautiful brilliant ornaments of rhinestones and pearls, classic models in gilt and silver color and the dainty flower filters, among an elaborate collection offering many styles to suit as many costumes.

The vogue of the Spanish shawl and its many variants has made popular its traditional accessory, the Spanish comb, or some form of appropriate paraphernalia for the hair, quite different from the simple headpiece that was fashionable a few seasons ago.

Original ideas would seem to have been exhausted in neckties, yet the most captivating examples keep coming to meet the popular demand. Nothing is lovelier than a full-chain, conventional necktie length of graduated beads of rose quartz. Others of crystal quartz new emblems of cool summer sunlight, and some are cubes alternating on a thin string, with beads of jade, aquamarine, topaz, or shape-cut jet. An oblique dart in a necktie face formed of large beads of Chinese jade, and beads of ivory, beautifully traced in brown lines, with a pendant of jade from which is suspended a large tassel of jade-green silk.

The popularity of ostrich has brought out some unique and exceedingly catchy forms of trimming for fringed costumes. For evening gowns of thin material (tulle, georgette, gauze and the thin crepe) are shown beautiful ostrich-long, trailing sprays of the feathery stuff, and large clusters.

New versions of the Spanish shawl seem to come out almost weekly. The latest is black and white, done in large scroll patterns and is entirely screen, hand-painted or embroidered on a solid background. The latest, Spanish, attaches to many lovely things in wraps for day and evening wear in the picturesque scarfs and shawls, heavily embroidered and fringed, that give a look of distinction to the most inconspicuous costume. They are of various origins, French, Italian, Russian, English, Scandinavian, and most are pretty and unusual.

New Fall Portrait Hat Has Wing-Shaped Brim

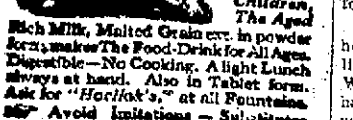

One of the attractions at a fall millinery show recently held in New York was a large portrait hat with a wing-shaped brim, with falling of single-lens velvet, crown and top-brim draped with black panne velvet and a fan of panache as sole trimming.

Fashionable Apparel as Noted in Style Centers

A fashion authority who has returned recently from style centers abroad, says the Kansas City Mirror backs these authoritative highlights of fashionable dress: Flared skirts are worn longer in back than in front. Sometimes heavy fringes make the difference. The introduction of long, light-fitting lace sleeves in morning gowns is an important feature of semi-formal gowns.

One of the novelties of the season is a detachable "chocker" that buttons at one side. It usually is made of some far, stretched by detachable cuffs on the dress. The only trimming that some of the smartest evening gowns have is heavy silver ribbon attached to the shoulders and lying at the waistline in back.

LITTLE TO SALVAGE FROM WEGLEY ESTATE, REFEREE DISCOVERS

GREENSBURG, Sept. 11.—William F. Wegley, who was recently sentenced to the Western Penitentiary to serve from 25 to 50 years for irregularities in the handling of his clients' money, was placed on the stand yesterday in the bankruptcy hearing before Referee James Gregg to further explain his accounts in what they call of the Wegley funds which remain. The hearing was a continuation of the hearing held before Mr. Gregg Monday.

From testimony presented at the hearing it is evident that there is little chance of recovering any of Wegley's personal estate which it had previously been surmised was valued at $21,000 of which $18,000 was supposed to be in mortgages. Attorney Clarence Hughes, counsel for the Wagoner Trust Company, further questioned Wegley on the 7,000 checks which had been issued by him from funds of the firm. Wegley stated that the checks had probably been used in the payment of a number of his own bills.

Wegley admitted that he dabbled in the stock of the Lake Superior Mining Company Ltd., organized under the laws of Canada, in May, 1922, subscribing to 10,000 shares at $10 a share. Wegley was made treasurer of the company, he said. The company failed December, 1923, with Mr. Wegley losing the greater part of his investment.

Wegley also explained one check for $1,500 by stating that he had invested that amount in the Erbo Soft Drink Company of Pittsburg but the company never started. Further questioning on smaller checks failed to shed any light on their disbursement.

VACATIONS ARE OVER

Let's Make the Remainder of 1924 Worth While.

Let's do the things we have left undone. Let's plan for the future. Let's look forward hopefully, not forgetting to save a little regularly for the inevitable rainy day and put our savings where they will be safe and earn more money—in the First National of Connellsville, for instance, which is equipped for efficient service in all monetary matters. What Happens When Dynamite Is Exploded

Big dynamite blasts are more and more frequent items of news. Charges of dynamite are brutal deep in the face of a cliff or a solid wall is turned, there is a deafening roar, and thousands of tons come crashing down. What, this inquiring observer asks, produces this explosion? What actually happens when dynamite explodes?

To answer this question it is necessary to explain briefly what dynamite is. Reduced to its essentials, dynamite is a mixture of nitroglycerin, with wood meal and nitrate of soda or nitrate of ammonia, or both. Nitroglycerin, in turn, is composed of several different elements, namely, carbon, hydrogen, nitrogen and oxygen. The molecules of which are grouped in such a way as to form a heavy, oily, yellow liquid. Now these same molecules are capable of forming several different substances instead of the one, and the bonds which hold them together in the particular arrangement which makes nitroglycerin are very weak.

Consequently, when the electric current sets off the dynamite and this imparts a sharp shock and very high temperature to the nitroglycerin, the bonds between the molecules, which compose the nitroglycerin, break down. The nitrogen and some of the oxygen remain free—both of them, gases—while the other molecules instantly combine to form two compound gases, carbon dioxide and water vapor. The breaking down of the nitroglycerin and rearrangement of its molecules constitutes a great deal of heat—enough to raise the temperature of the gases to 6,300 degrees F. or thereabouts—and this high temperature causes the other ingredients of the dynamite to decompose into gases, or in brief, with the release of still more heat.

All of this takes place in a single instant and the highly heated and rapidly expanding gases, which would normally occupy a much smaller volume than the dynamite, exert a sudden tremendous pressure on the walls of the bore hole. The rock gives way and the escaping gases set the air into violent vibration. To the beholder, the explosion consists of the roaring noise and the rending of the rock, but in reality there are only the audible and visible results of the rearrangement of the molecules of the dynamite, when subjected to a shock from the detonator. This conversion of the nitroglycerin and other ingredients of the dynamite into gases constituting the actual explosion.

Chief Big Feet Is Caddy

Some day the open champion of the g-r-r-and amid Scottish game of golf will be an Indian—if you don't believe it ask Chief Big Feet, who totes a bag at the Kebo Valley country club, Bar Harbor Maine. The chief is not only one of the best caddies at the club but one of the best players and has won several caddy tournaments. He is believed to be the only 'Indian' caddy in the world, except for the Seminole boys in Florida.

A high-contrast, black and white illustration of a man in a fedora and suit, holding a cigarette. The style is reminiscent of mid-20th-century noir or pulp magazine art. The man is shown from the chest up, looking slightly to the right. He wears a dark fedora with a light band and a dark suit with a striped tie. His right hand is raised to his face, holding a lit cigarette. The lighting is dramatic, with deep shadows on the left side of his face and under his hat. The background is plain white.

Working in Noisy Places Increases Blood Pressure

CHICAGO, Sept. 11—Blood pressure of a business man of 40 rises from 10 to 15 points within an hour after he enters a noisy office in the morning, according to W. S. Trader, acoustical expert, who points out the necessity for sound-deadening material in business houses to conserve the health and efficiency of the nation.

"Concentrated mental effort has something to do with this increased pressure," said Mr. Trader. "But it has been scientifically demonstrated that the sudden step-in in blood pressure is due mainly to noise. High blood pressure is one of the mysteries that science recently has undertaken to solve. An increase of 10 points in blood pressure means that that business man is crowding 10 years of energy into one year of time. He is clipping years off his life. He is rushing to physical breakdown. He is sending death a gift-edged invitation to come and get him."

"Every sound in a modern office is magnified from 11 to 15 times. Each reflection is a tiny echo. But in the confined space of an office, these tiny echoes are jumbled together into a confused reverberation. In this chaos of noise, it is as difficult for the mind to function as concentrated and orderly effort as for a ship to sail in a stormy sea."

"The only remedy for the plague of noise which is a necessary part of modern industry is sound-proofing in walls, floors and ceilings. Noise attacks the brain like little hammer blows and weakens it. Silence calms the mind unimpeded to do its work effectively. Noise connotes wasted energy. Silence means efficiency."

Seizing an Opportunity. Mrs. Tattle—Fm rather hard to please. Have you had much experience as a maid?
Applaud—I worked for Mrs. Neighbor for six months before she and her husband separated.
Mrs. Tattle—If engage you. Now tell me all about it.

Sensational Sale of New Antiseptic Breaking Record

A Discovery of Vast Benefit to Humanity.

Thousands Using It Give It Unstinted Praise.

Another Public Letter to Union Drug Co. Who Have Already Sold Hundreds of Bottles.

Now that you have had such a wonderful sale of Kojene these last few weeks, why not again tell your friends and customers what a wonderful discovery it is?

By so doing you can help many ailing ones and prevent hundreds of others from becoming ill.

Science continues to progress and now it has given us Kojene, the new and only antiseptic known that is neither poisonous, alcoholic, irritant or caustic.

And this non-poisonous antiseptic, so harmless that you can drink it, is four times as powerful as Carbolic Acid.

Yes, and more powerful than Bichloride of Mercury.

Let's go a little further with this new antiseptic that physicians, surgeons and dentists are talking about.

Please tell your customers that it is seventy-five times more powerful as a destroyer of germs than most of the popular flavored antiseptics and mouth washes now in use. Go further and tell them that it is so powerful that one single teaspoonful will make a whole tumblerful of the most effective and pleasant mouth wash money can buy.

A sixty cent bottle will make one-half gallon—Vest one-half gallon of a better mouth wash than the high priced, ready to use kind.

And while you are talking about the world's most wonderful antiseptic—Kojene—tell them about a few of the many things it has the power to relieve.

Sore throat and tonsillitis will disappear overnight. In a week chronic nasal catarrh will be a thing of the past. Old sores, ulcers, boils, carbuncles and blebbed skin will clear up like magic.

Blisters and that itching skin that drives one almost mad—two days treatment is enough.

And that's all—except that women who believe in cleanliness will be glad to know that Kojene will do anything that any other antiseptic will do and do it better.

And it is not poisonous.

Another thing—Kojene has only the most healthful effect on delicate membranes which cannot be said of harsh, poisonous germ killing agents.

A six-ounce bottle for 60 cents—and we almost forgot to say that you can give any purchaser the sixty cents back if he or she is not delighted with Kojene.—Advertisement

The Covered Wagon

At the Theatres

The Paramount

"DYNAMITE DAN" showing today and tomorrow at the Paramount is one of the best attractions shown at this theatre in months.

Motion pictures may come and go but there probably never was another picture produced that has the thrill of the new Kenneth McDonald production, "Dynamite Dan." In said to contain the public has long been familiar with the apparently impossible feats of the dynamic McDonald and it is hardly believable that he could accomplish anything more hazardous than his stunts in the past, but advance reports indicate that he has indeed more pep into "Dynamite Dan" than in any picture he ever appeared in.

Bruce Mitchell, the director, saw in McDonald wonderful possibilities for a real fight picture and proceeded to write the story that gave him the greatest opportunity in his life. Mr. Mitchell's foresight proved correct with the result that "Dynamite Dan" is a real box office knockout. Many big names appear in the supporting cast including Diana Alden, Jack Richardson, Boris Karloff, Eddie Harris and Jack Walmeyer. Preliminary plans are being made for the opening.

The Soisson

"STORMY SEAS"—The feature picture today and tomorrow at this theatre presents Helen Holmes and J. P. McGowan in the leading roles. The big thrill in "Stormy Seas" comes with the burning at sea of a private yacht, from which McGowan as the hero rescues the heroine, Helen Holmes, who is co-starred with him, from what a moment before looks like certain death. The yacht is a real one, not a studio contrivance and there certainly is nothing of make-believe about the fire. It is difficult to conceive of a more realistic screening of a combination conflagration and sea tragedy.

The story of "Stormy Seas" is by Arthur W. Donaldson, and it is one of the most interesting heart interest through-out. Suspense and romance mingle with the thrills and not the least of the developments which commend the picture as one exceedingly worthwhile is the fact it has a surprise ending. The hero and heroine do not indulge in the customary "movie" clutch after the rescue. Earlier in the story the man has shown himself unworthy of the girl, and even in her heroically saving her life he does not win her back to himself.

The characters are excellently cast and some marvelous exterior scenes are shown. McDonald himself directed the production and did an excellent piece of work.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Mabel Normand will be seen in "The Extra Girl."

The Orpheum

"DULCY" which opened Thursday at the Orpheum for a three day attraction presents Constance Talmadge in a delightful role.

"Dulcy" is a dumb-bell. Constance makes her the very personification of a bonobon—with enthusiasm. She plays the role of a young wife whose forte is to spill the beans. She is impudged with a desire to help and only succeeds in hindering. The climax of her stupidity comes when she thinks a woman's wit and intuition would be a powerful ally in her husband's affairs and seeks to inject her into them, almost ruining hubby. Just how the situation is relieved is one of the best laughs of the picture.

Miss Talmadge has played so many roles so well that it is difficult to say which has been her best. One may venture the assertion that none has been better than her "Dulcy," which she plays with a sincerity and spontaneity which is delightful. Her supporting cast, we are certain has never been better. Jack Hall all plays opposite the star in the usual able manner.

"THE COVERED WAGON"—One of the most magnificent screen pic-

Some 600 prairie set scenes 100 horses 600 men hundreds of actors and 1,000 Indians from six different tribes go to make up this stupendous production the largest this far presented to the motion picture public.
J. Warren Kerrigan, Lois Wilson,
Charles Ogle, Ernest Torrence, Lily
Marshall, Alan Hale, Guy Oliver and

John Fox are the principal players.
The production has adhered closely to the novel by Emerson Hough and has lost none of the force and interest of the story. It is a love story that is different. Many difficulties are encountered by Lois Wilson and Kerrigan because of the fact that Alan Hale as Sam Woodhull, believes that he is engaged to Molly and refuses to tolerate Will Benton's (Kerrigan) attention to her. In the end, however, everything turns out for the best.

The action is exceptionally thrilling the incidents being dramatic and impressive. These include the fording of the Kaw River by the wagon train the Indian attack and the fire on the prairie fire the buffalo hunt the fierce battle between Ban-ton and Woodhull the parting of the train and the death of Woodhull.
The action is speedy and thrilling.

The Arcade

The Arcade Theatre has pleased big crowds this week. "The Laddy Bear" Giles proved to be one of the cleanest
most up to date musical comedies seen in Connellsville for a long time.
The vaudeville team of Cotton and Cotton scored a big hit in the change of program. "The Beauty Spot" The Jazz band received numerous congratulations for this being the finest of its kind. The picture of a well trained chorus as put over several popular numbers to good hands.
The chorus is also seen to good advantage throughout the entire show.
The costumes are elaborate and eye-catching. The picture has been approved on Irish settings. The comedian will conclude its engagement
today and Saturday offering a complete change of program entitled "Cute and Pretty," said to be the best bit of their repertoire. The picture program will include among other novelties a western story entitled "King's Command." Splendid music is daily offered by the Arcade Orchestra. The ladies matinee is proving quite popular and will continue to be an attractive feature at the Arcade.

Good News for Illing Women.
Much has been said for and against proprietary medicines by the medical profession. It will interest every woman to know that in a recent country-wide canvass of over 121,000 purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as to the results received from its use, the replies received showed that ninety-eight out of every one hundred women had been benefited by its use. Therefore every sick and ailing woman owes it to herself to give this remarkably successful remedy a fair trial.—Ad-

The TRUANK SOUL
by VICTOR ROUSSEAU
COPYRIGHT BY W.G. CHAPMAN

"Well, well, Myers," he said, looking at his white face and trembling hands, she thought she knew what was the matter with him.

"Listen, Doctor Lancaster," she began, laying her fingers on his arm. "I know you are not looking at her. He was looking past her toward Myers, who was coming across the pasture toward the entrance. His expression was transformed.

"Miss Wentworth," he said, with a sudden change of tone, "what was I saying to you? I am not myself at all today. I have been greatly overworked, and talking nonsense. Don't remember it. I meant nothing at all.

Of course you must remain your month, in case any patients come, and then we'll see what we can do about the position."

And, as Myers came up to them, the same hopeless, clinging expression came into his eyes.

The secretary ignored Joan completely. "Well, doctor," he said, "I have the quarterly statement ready for you. Won't you come and look over it? I must have your signature, and you know how hard it is to fasten your pen."

"Yes, I'll come, certainly, Myers," said Lancaster, rising.

The two men went into the house together. Joan heard the door close behind them. She was left to ponder over that interview.

She was conscious of two conflicting impulses: to leave, and to remain for Lancaster's sake. There was something about the man's pitiable condition that aroused all her sympathies. But there was something about the whole place repulsive to her. She must get away from this place.

She must get away from this place, she thought. Who? Mrs. Fraser? That was impossible as yet.

At that moment she saw Doctor Jenkins driving up the path, and went to meet him.

The boy sprang to the ground and raised his hat. "Good morning, Miss Wentworth. How is the doctor today?" he asked.

"Doctor Lancaster looks very ill," she answered. "And Doctor Jenkins, I want to ask you—"

"Pardon me, Miss Wentworth. Can I see him?"

"He is with Mr. Myers."

Jenkins' face assumed an aspect of profound discouragement. "Then I'll come back this afternoon," he said, preparing to enter the buggy again.

But he found Joan intercepting his passage. She had noted the look on his face, and she felt that he understood much which could be explained.

"Doctor Jenkins," she said quietly, "Doctor Lancaster is unwell and I am his nurse. Will you not tell me what is the matter with him?"

"Why, Miss Wentworth," stammered the doctor.

"There is no reason why you should not see him because he happens to be with Mr. Myers."

"Well, Miss Wentworth, you see, Mr. Myers is his secretary, and there's always a lot of business to be done."

"Doctor Jenkins, Doctor Lancaster is in no condition to attend to business," said Joan. "What is the matter with him?"

The doctor looked right and left, as if trying to find some refuge. But the girl was standing in front of him, and he could not enter the buggy without pushing her away.

"Miss Wentworth, please don't ask me about the doctor," he said. "I do my best for him. I lost in my power to do more than I am doing."

"It is in your power to help him to be master of himself. How can the most famous surgeon in the South come here and be at the mercy of a man like Myers?"

"Why, Miss Wentworth, you've got that wrong," protested Jenkins. "Myers is only the secretary. Mr. Myers does all the work for the doctor. We've got to keep the institute together. Miss Wentworth, and we're just getting on our feet. The very first time Myers made good to the doctor, he was only in charge of it, and when the money was missing it was his fault. And—"

Getting Skinnier Every Day

Something Must Be Done and Done Dam Quick, Too.

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women too—are getting discouraged—giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong. All such people can stop worrying and start to smile. Right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, which any doctor will suggest.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in 30 days. Ask your doctor or write to McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, 111 E. 12th St., New York, N.Y.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets are so easy to take as candy, and if any thin person don't gain at least five pounds in 30 days your druggist will give you your money back—and only ask you a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets. Ask A. A. Clarke or any live pharmacist anywhere.

Choose Veil of Color and Weave That Suits

Do you select your veil with a view to covering "a multitude of sins," or do you regard it only as a becoming "fashioning touch" to your costume? While it is true that a veil does minimize certain defects, it is not a mask or a disguise. And it should not only hide imperfections, but highlight charms, says a correspondent in the Kansas City Star.

Ask yourself these questions as you select your veil: Does it enhance the beauty of my hat? Does it give my toilet a more complete appearance? Does it protect my face? Let your veil be of a color and weave that you know suit you, and never let it be a disguise. The veil is perhaps the most becoming of all. It has the effect of clarifying the skin and highlighting the color, and if the eyes happen to be blue, it increases their color and brilliancy.

The face veil solely of white is the one most to be avoided, as it is unbecoming except to very youthful women, or those who have very clear, highly-colored complexions. A woman with a few features should, ordinarily, wear a veil with a light pattern. A heavier pattern may suit the larger woman. Similarly, a small, close-fitting hat usually requires a single-mesh veil; but where the hat is farther away from the face, as in the large hat, the larger-patterned veil is smart and becoming.

The most satisfactory sort of veil for everyday use is the bowler, twisted, linen-mesh one, as in brown or white with black dots. These veils are becoming to nearly every one, and they wash and wear well.

Shoes for Outdoor Wear - Must Be of Right Kind

The most important item of the outdoor costume is footwear and it is not easy to achieve a happy combination of ease and style without sacrificing a little of each. Feet that are cramped or damp must be carefully avoided, and shoes that resemble long-leaved boots are equally out of the picture. The secret of graceful, happy shoes is at the same time comfortable and waterproof lines in the type of leather employed. Oil-tanned leathers are equal to this exigency and it is important to remember that shoes of this sort should never be dried over a fire as this leather burns very easily. Chrome-tanned leather is also satisfactory—it is soft and pliable, and after it is dried does not become brittle or cracky.

The size of the hiking or tramping shoe is of utmost importance. Remember that heavy wooden heels are essential to foot comfort in heavy shoes, and that it is customary to order shoes of this character at least two sizes larger than the normal measurements. All shoes are high and all heels are low. Of course, there is a definite sacrifice of smartness in this arrangement but it is obvious that even the trimmest ankle could not march far in a high-heeled slipper.

Featuring One Color

Sons of the smart New York shops are featuring one color. Thus the faintest harmonious yellow is seen in chiffon frocks for evening wear. The deeper shades of yellow are used for afternoon costumes and wraps, while the most vivid yellows are reserved for sports clothes.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(See 12th Western Newspaper Union)

But words are things. And a small drop of ink, falling like dew upon a thought, produces that which makes thousands of millions, think. —BYRON.

SEASONABLE FOODS

A monotonous diet spoils one's appetite for the common foods. "Variety is the spice of life," and every housewife knows how essential it is in serving the daily food.

Simple Cabbage Salad

Shred a small cabbage, add a stalk or two of celery cut fine and a slice or two of chopped onion. Pour over the cabbage the following dressing:

Beat two egg yolks, add two tablespoons of water, a tablespoonful of melted butter, a dash of salt and cayenne and one-quarter of a cupful of vinegar. Cook this over hot water and pour hot over the cabbage, stirring it over the heat until well heated, then serve at once.

Cabbage, With Cheese.—Remove the hard center from a small firm head of cabbage and drop it whole into boiling salted water. When tender, drain, place on a platter, cut into triangular pieces and pour over it a hot white sauce made rich with grated cheese.

Cottage Cheese and Lettuce Salad.—Take a quarter of a cupful of cream cottage cheese and mix it with any highly-seasoned salad dressing, either mayonnaise or boiled dressing, add a spoonful of chopped nuts and such seasoning as one likes. Arrange ripe tomatoes in slices and add the dressing all arranged on head lettuce, crisp and cool.

Ever Ready Lemonade.—Boil together one cupful of sugar and the same of water, one-half cupful of lemon juice; use this proportion and multiply it to suit the need. Cook about five minutes and bottle. Keep in the ice chest and when wanted add a tablespoonful of the syrup to a glass of ice water.

Here comes Mrs. Gabbins. I think I'll have Mrs. Gabbins' hair cut. "What's the still, small voice of conscience reproach you?" "Yes, but I'd rather listen to the still, small voice than to hers."
